

OH VIRGINIA

Lyrics by Robben Ford

Oh, Virginia
There's a lot to be said
For when the day settles down
And we go off to bed
We can make our own light
In the deep of the night naturally

But if the rain leaks in thru the roof
Will your love be waterproof
If things don't come easy, will you still look to ease me

And would you wear my clothes
Spend the night with cold toes
Go where the wind blows me
Take what the times throw me
Oh, Virginia

Oh, Virginia
It feels good together
I've been an unstable man
Had a run of bad weather
But from right where we are
Think I might see a star over you and me

But if words could make you blind
Is there a chance you'll change your mind
If someone should accuse me, would you turn and refuse me

Or would you take my part
And keep the faith in your heart
Know that I'm for real
With nothing to conceal
Oh, Virginia

Oh, Virginia
I'm ready indeed
To give all I've got
I can follow or lead
Thru good times or less
I would always say yes to you and me

But if the hard times linger on
Is there a chance I'll find you gone
Could I wake to a letter, says you're looking for better

Or would you stand by me, Oh, Virginia
Cuz you can count on me, Oh, my Virginia
